DOMESTIC OR INDIAN TOURISTS IN RAJASTHAN:

Domestic or Indian tourists move within their own country. For example when a person who is living in Mumbai, visits Rajasthan for spending holidays or for pleasure or for knowing about the tradition, culture, art etc. of Rajasthan he is called an Indian tourist.

“The winning of foreign tourist is not the only goal. Development of domestic tourism has important intrinsic value and in economic terms, can help to build up the infrastructure, necessary for tourists.”

The people of India are very religious and they want to know more and more about the religion as well as the history of our glorious past and for this purpose mainly they like to visit Rajasthan. The second and important reason of the increasing number of domestic tourists in Rajasthan is the handicraft work, textiles and the delights of this state. For knowing the royal families, about the life of Raja Maharajas is the third main reason for visiting Rajasthan as it is well known that Rajasthan is a place of Rajas. It has been famous for its kings and princes and their heroic deeds and kingly affairs. Rajasthan’s famous festivals are like Gangaur, Teej, Urs and on these festivals, special arrangements are made by the government for the foreign as well as for Indian tourists. Domestic Tourism is making rapid inroads and is growing at a faster rate than foreign tourists arrivals.

FOREIGN TOURISTS IN RAJASTHAN:

Foreign tourists are those who travel outside their own countries. They spend their time to select tourist places, beautiful sights and attractions of another country that are new to them. Preserved the monuments, the more vital the living traditions and the more pristine the natural environment, the more the tourists, and more the profits. More profits will lead to more local motivation to preserve the monuments, to keep the traditions alive and to keep the environment pure. It is a benevolent circle of a process in which both visitors and residents ultimately win. Because of these reasons no other state is as much famous for the foreign tourists as much as Rajasthan. Almost one in every three foreigners visiting India, comes to Rajasthan.

history come alive on any tour of Rajasthan, pageants, palaces, bastions and forts, festivals and a celebration of handicrafts. The efforts made by the Rajasthan Tourism Development Corporation in the past year have started giving dividend and the tourist inflow to the state has been increasing year after year as evident from the below.
